

Fellowship Altman For Congress

Altman For Congress is looking to recruit and train fellows to work on various aspects of Sue Altman's campaign for the House of Representatives in New Jersey's 7th Congressional District, as she aims to flip one of the most closely watched contests in the country.

About Sue and the race:

Sue Altman is a proud daughter of New Jersey's 7th Congressional District. After leading her Voorhees High School basketball team to local championships, Sue played college basketball at Columbia University and professional basketball abroad, earned two graduate degrees from Oxford University in the UK, then went on to become a teacher and successful basketball coach—leading two teams to state championships. For the last several years, Sue has served as Executive Director of the New Jersey Working Families Alliance, a non-profit organization focused on fighting political corruption in Trenton, fighting against the waste of taxpayer dollars, and making New Jersey a better place to live for everyone.

The Cook Political Report has designated NJ-07 a “toss-up” district. It is one of the most closely-watched congressional races in the country. Since launching her campaign, Sue has been endorsed by the Communication Workers of America, 32BJ SEIU, the Congressional Progressive Caucus, and has raised over $775,000.

What you'll do:

- Conduct donor research and assist staff at fundraising events;
- Maintain and update various databases and learn to navigate programs like VAN and NGP;
- Organize local stakeholders and conduct outreach to voters;
- Create graphics and draft copy for voter communications;
- Assist and help organize public events;
- Collaborate with other fellows, Altman For Congress staff, and Sue to achieve campaign goals via other duties as assigned.
